

The Charleston Battery

has teamed up with the US Soccer Foundation's Passback program and will be collecting new and gently used soccer gear at the Battery vs Sounders game Saturday, April 19, 2008 – Blackbaud Stadium, Daniel Island

Some of the items collected will be sent to Kenya to support Charleston Battery midfielder, David Kenga's foundation, Fuhaha Youth. David was one of the founders of Fuhaha and was its first ambassador.

What is Fuhaha ?

Fuhaha Youth is a soccer academy in Kilifi district, Kenya, Africa. Formed on December 23, 2006 Fuhaha was launched with over 100 children. For more information about the foundation please visit <http://www.fuhahayouth.com/>.

"Fuhaha" means "We are here" in the mijikenda dialect spoken in coastal region of Kenya. It is a typical response to the question "Are your here" or in local dialect this would be "Ela Muhaha".

It is pronounced---Foo-Ha-Ha.

The Charleston Battery has also teamed up with Units Mobile Storage for this project; Units Mobile Storage will be supplying the container to collect all the gear in at Blackbaud Stadium.
